Role-playing games "World of Darkness" take the reader to worlds and realities where magic is not dead and even the dead are not dead. Sometimes it is used as a weapon against its own fellow scientists... However, magic has never been a means of profit and a strong tool of power. However, in RPGs, magic plays a significant role. This may seem like a contradiction, but it is a fact. The description of the game world is given in the fantasy genre. The plot is so ancient that it is already difficult to remember how it all began. Thanks to the skill of the ancient chroniclers, the world of role-playing games may seem young. But, despite this, it is an absolutely safe world for any player, where everyone can find what they want. In the world of role-playing games there is no place for strife, hatred, envy and even death. Good and evil exist only in the imagination of the players, and in case of luck in the game, all the sensations cannot be compared with real life. Having a choice is what freedom is. It is assumed that you will find yourself in a situation where the fate of the world depends on you, and it is closely related to your personal. Usually the Player leads his story, having the opportunity to gain power, talents, abilities and experience that others cannot. The peculiarity of the game is that everyone, regardless of class, has great power, so the intrigue in role-playing games is the place to be. To get support, betrayal, help, or just something, you need to do something for another, and not sit around waiting. Be that as it may, the Game provides unlimited possibilities. Among other things, role-playing games have a social approach. This means something that you get used to and cannot forget. The role-playing game will not only help you experience many bright and interesting moments, but also recreate the events of the past. Try playing Roles of the Past! The game attracts not only fans of everything mysterious and harsh, but also young people who love adventure, as well as people who prefer virtual entertainment to real. Role-playing games have a unique atmosphere that absorbs you and does not let you tear yourself away from the game, because even if the game gets boring, you will definitely return to it. Role-playing is a game - a house. This is a place where you can be anyone, realizing your abilities, dreams and fantasies. It's a way to discover what you don't expect from yourself
